Provider Network and Reimbursement Guide

Provider Networks

Health plans contract with physicians, hospitals, laboratories, pharmacies, and other organizations. Contracted providers are generally considered in-network.

Allowed Amount

The allowed amount is the amount recognized by the plan for a covered service. It may be based on a negotiated contract, fee schedule, case rate, or other reimbursement methodology.

Network Status

Provider participation is effective-dated. A provider may be in-network for one date of service and out-of-network for another if contract status changes.

Reimbursement

The plan calculates provider payment after applying the allowed amount, member cost sharing, coordination of benefits, and other claim rules.
